Space-Age Device Would 'Magnetize' Roaches, Rats

Bugs is not everybody's bag but some "space age" business firms are making millions off of them.

And a sizeable grant from our tax money is being used to test devices that claim to "disorient" cockroaches by way of magnetic force at super-high frequency sound.

But now another pest raises its ugly head. It's called credibility. Do cockroaches, the nation's most prevalent pest, really care if their magnetic field is "altered"?

Can a "modulation" of this field, undetectable to human cause en masse evacuation of termites?

Such claims are made on the labels of electromagnetic devices being tested by the University of California at Riverside under a $20,000 grant from the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

Profits from the sale of such devices has produced at least one millionaire. One company reported 12,000 of the devices sold here and abroad at $350 to $1,000 each.

EPA has requested sample products from 5 manufacturers marketing electromagnetic devices under a variety of brand names. The products emit an ultrahigh frequency, far too high to be humanly audible, which "repels," "stresses" and "disorients" vermin, according to various claims.

Pests that do not scatter allegedly enter a fatal, trancelike state in which they refuse to eat, drink or mate. Rats, gophers, mice, ants, roaches and termites are among those susceptible; pets, domestic animals and game, luckily, are "not affected."

Recent EPA tests showed that 2 models of the Amigo device, manufactured by millionaire Robert Brown's Mira Mfg. Co. in Pine Valley, had no effect on rats or mice. The agency banned the sale of the devices in March.

But testimonials and even some scientific opinions contradict EPA findings. Among Mira's customers was the U.S. Marine Base at Pendleton where 2 Amigos reportedly cleared a 10-acre parade field of gophers. A chicken farmer in North S.D. said the device cleared 10,000 mice within 4-5 days which were bothering his chickens.

Some testimonials go like this. Someone had bugs or rodents and now they are gone. There are no sampling procedures, according to UCR scientists. No pre-and post-evaluations. The effects reported may not be attributable to the machine itself. For example, roaches will evacuate under adverse changes in temperature or humidity.

If an apartment is vacated, eliminating the source of food and water, roaches will also vacate, it was said.

These factors will be carefully controlled in UCR tests during the next 10 months. Cockroaches will be studied "in the field" — moderate-income apartments in the L.A. areas — dry wood termites in the laboratory.

"We will count cockroaches and termites before and after the installation of repellers," a scientist said. "Watching the effects of invisible, inaudible electronic waves is very different than applying chemicals on or near insects. Everything in the situation must be defined.

"For instance, drywood termites will have sealed themselves into the wood blocks. Would this change the supposed effectiveness of the electromagnet?" he asked.

Electromagnetic frequencies of up to 20,000 cycles a second are humanly inaudible as "sound." Repeller devices emit frequencies exceeding one million cycles a second, according to manufacturer Brown.

That is the present story on the control of these pests and signs point backward toward mouse traps and roach powder. We hope the newfangled electromagnetic contraptions are proven to be more successful than tests up to now but no one should be encouraged to spend several hundred dollars for one until UCR's testing is complete.

In the meantime, we wish the scientists "happy hunting."

the nearby mountains. Plans are also progressing for a 21 acre shopping center, to be located in the northeast quadrant of Avocado Blvd. and Hwy. 94.

Companies currently developing their projects in Rancho San Diego are L. B. Nelson Corp. — 71 units completed in Canterbury Hill; MLM Development, Inc. with 85 units planned for the Homestead; M.C.S. Frederick Development Corp. is starting construction of 116 units in Orchard Lane Terrace.

Fank R. Parks, general manager of Rancho San Diego, a subsidiary of Del E. Webb California, Inc., said that the 4,620 acre master planned residential project is approaching its half-way point of development over a ten year period.

Rancho San Diego is located in the eastern foothills of San Diego County, adjoining La Mesa, Spring Valley and El Cajon. Parks said that 40 percent of the total acreage is being developed as open space.

THE OFFENDING CURB — Lemon Grove business owners along Broadway continue to be enraged about the traffic control curbs bordering their private parking areas, but the City Council is not likely to meet merchants' demand that the curbs be taken out immediately. (See accompanying story.)

'Save Prop. 13' Reports Available at LG CofC

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce has copies of the California Chamber of Commerce's ALERT available to those who want to know more about the government spending limit plan.

The chamber purchased a supply of the reports on the status of the "Spending Lid" but they came too late to be mailed with the current chamber newsletter.

In the reports are recommendations on to whom to write to make Proposition 13 as effective as it was intended.

The deadline for sending such communications is prior to August 15, and the next newsletter will be distributed too late for effective action.

Copies of the reports regarding action which may be taken to help lawmakers remember that taxpayers do not want other taxes to replace the lost income by way of 13, may be obtained free from the chamber office at 3415 Imperial Ave., L.G. 92045 or by calling chamber office manager Vicky Morgan at 469-9621.

Not Immediately, Anyway

City Probably Won't Remove Broadway Traffic Control Curbs

By Bob Melton

Lemon Grove merchants with businesses on Broadway between Imperial and Kempf better not hold their breath for quick relief for their traffic control curb woes.

It's highly unlikely the City of Lemon Grove will immediately tear out the curbs and replace them with low bumpers or stripes, despite just that demand on petitions signed by many business owners in the affected stretch of Broadway.

Although the petitions, forwarded by the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, are set as an "information item" on Monday night's City Council agenda, City Manager Jack Shelver at presstime didn't see going along with the petitioners as among the alternatives he'll suggest to the council.

He's more likely to suggest a traffic study of the stretch, to be performed by the County Engineering Department under contract to the city, with the first priority to find out how much such a study would cost.

Other alternatives he may suggest, Shelver told the Lemon Grove Review, are that the council assure petitioners they'll take up the matter in the regular course of General Plan development — or, possibly, to just file (accept) the petitions without comment.

"It certainly would not be my recommendation right now that the curbs be taken out," Shelver said. "I would want to see a lot more information on alternatives and the cost of those alternatives."

Meanwhile Olin Thompson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said he opposes removal of the curbs, favoring instead ways of procuring more customer parking for Broadway businesses on adjacent streets.

"Removing the curbs has nothing to do with parking," Thompson told the Review, adding that "parking is something a business owner should have thought of before he moved in."

Thompson noted that the curbs, installed by the county in late 1973, before Lemon Grove was incorporated, as part of a $114,000 widening and improvement of Broadway, were intended to solve a major traffic-and-parking hazard along the stretch.

"I remember how it used to be," he said, "with delivery trucks backing up directly into traffic, cars hitting each other." At one point in 1973, county officials said Broadway between Imperial and Kempf had the highest accident rate for a comparable stretch in the county.

Parking problems caused by the curbs, Thompson said, could be alleviated by "merchants going in together on a parking assessment district, buying a lot, blacktopping it and offering it for additional customer parking.

"There are a lot of business areas in San Diego County which have worse parking problems than we do," Thompson added. "Look at North Park, Logan Heights, Vista."

He added that although he bought his own business in the affected stretch, Lemon Grove Hardware, after the curbs were installed, "our business has skyrocketed."

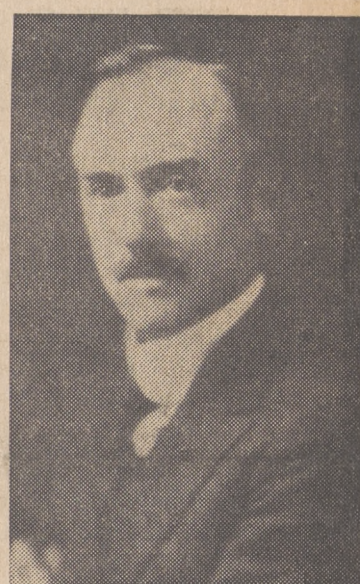

"In a lot of cases you'll find the complaints are more from the business people themselves than from the customers."

Thompson added that the Chamber of Commerce declined to back the demand for curb removal "because the chamber represents the entire business community, not just the business persons in the affected stretch of Broadway."

"Many of the other Lemon Grove businessmen are not as evangelical in their enthusiasm to have those curbs removed," he said.

West at 100

And Decades Ago

Lemon Grove Pioneer

William West, 103, Dies

By Susanne Williams
One of Lemon Grove's oldest citizens is dead.

William Henry West, born February 7, 1875 in England, died July 22 here after a full and long life.

In 1903, he came with his mother and wife Ada to San Diego, a place he had read about and studied while still in England. He was attracted to San Diego's mild climate and the opportunity to realize his dream, to build and operate a poultry ranch.

The dream materialized in 1914 when he moved to Lemon Grove and bought a chicken farm at 8280 Golden Ave. With the help of electric light and new feeding techniques he managed to produce an astonishing amount of eggs at times when the laying season was very expensive.

Gradually, his farming interest widened to include lemon trees, which he started to plant, some of them from seeds, on a newly acquired piece of property on Mt. Vernon Ave.

The 20 acres he purchased at the price of $600 per acre were later sold for $2000 per acre when West retired. They were also the site of the house he built and lived in with his wife until her death in 1943.

The lemon grove was one of the largest in the area and yielded unusually good crops. "Grandpa was a very shrewd businessman," said Janet Hastings, daughter of West's stepson Henry Eckler.

He also was very proper, very British, she said. But his love belonged to the new country, not to the old country where there were "nothing but old cities," to use his own phrase.

An active member of the community, West became the first president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce in 1927. He was instrumental in starting the first fire department and obtained Lemon Grove's first fire engine, used from the city of Tijuana, said Maxine Eckler, his stepson's wife.

West also served as President of the Lemon Grove Citrus Association between 1927 and 1957 and was director of the first Lemon Grove Mutual Water Company.

After his first wife's death, West married the former Lena Harmon Eckler, a librarian in the Lemon Grove County Library, then on Golden Ave.

After her death in 1964, he lived on 69th Street in Lemon Grove for a number of years and still maintained an active life although, by then, he had retired from his farming business.

Shortly before his 100th birthday, he moved back into his old residence on Mt. Vernon St., and stayed with his stepson Henry and his family.

West celebrated his centennial in good health, although his eyesight started failing him, a particularly hard fate for a man who was an avid reader.

"Grandpa was a very learned man," Hastings said. He had studied many subjects, including many religions of East and West.

With one exception—just to see what it was like—he never touched a drop of alcohol, although he was a chain-smoker until the age of 73, Hastings said.

His diet consisted primarily of meat and potatoes and, in true British fashion, tea. Caseroles or spaghetti, favorites in the Eckler home, were not to his liking.

The grand pioneer never succumbed to any major sickness, but an infection in April of this year forced him to be hospitalized for the first time in his life.

Three months later, he died at the San Diego Convalescent home and his ashes were scattered at sea by Humphrey Mortuary.

Organist To Play At La Jolla Presbyterian

Organist Joseph Schenk will appear in recital at La Jolla Presbyterian Church on Sunday at 7:30 p.m., playing the 54-rank Moller console. The church is located at 7715 Draper avenue in La Jolla.

Schenk studied under George Ritchie at the University of Nebraska, and more recently under Catherine Crozier, noted concert organist and San Diego area resident. He has won a number of organ competitions.

Schenk has served as organist and choir director at St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Del Mar, and as summer organist for the La Jolla Presbyterian Church. He has given a number of recitals in southern California during 1977 and 1978.

His program will include works by J. S. Bach, deGrigny, Vierne, Franck, Litaize, and Messiaen. Later this year, Schenk will be playing these compositions in Paris, France, as he competes for the Grand Prix de Chartres.

Half-Mile Run to Benefit SD-Imperial Lung Association

The America's Finest City Half Marathon, to be held Saturday, August 26 as part of San Diego's Finest City Week—will follow a route starting from the historic Cabrillo National Monument at 8 a.m., going along San Diego Bay and Harbor Island to the Star of India, past the City Administration Building, and ending in Balboa Park.

An estimated 3,000 persons are expected to participate in the Amateur Athletic Union-sanctioned race, designed to highlight the most scenic and historic aspects of San Diego.

Registration for the 13-plus mile run, which will benefit the Lung Association of San Diego and Imperial Counties, may be done by mail, until Monday, August 21, or in person at the Lung Association office at 3861 Front st., San Diego until 5 p.m. Friday, August 25. A minimum $5 tax-deductible fee is required from entrants.

The event, being held in cooperation with the City of San Diego, is being coordinated by the Old Mission Beach Athletic Club (OMBAC). Entry forms are available at all Stanley Andrews Sports Outfitters, a major sponsor of the event, and at the Lung Association Office, 3861 Front Street, San Diego.

The Mayor's Cup, donated by Stanley Andrews, will be given to the person with the fastest time. OMBAC will award a trophy to the first female finisher, and 61 awards will be given to the top finishers in 10 divisions.

The men's divisions for the race are: 12 and under; 13-17; open (18-34); submasters (35-39); masters (40-49); and veterans (over 50). Women's divisions are: 12 and under; 13-17; open (18-39) and masters (over 40).

All finishers in the race will receive an official T-shirt, designed specially for the event.

Aid stations will be set up for the runners at 4, 8, and 10 miles and at the finish line. Times will be given at the 1, 3, 5 and 10-mile marks.

The course is well-marked and supervised, with first aid assistance available.

The Lung Association of San Diego and Imperial Counties is part of the American Lung Association, a national network of voluntary health organizations dedicated to the prevention and control of lung disease.

Lung Association funds come from local sources only. Christmas Seals account for 80 per cent of this, with gifts and bequests and other fund-raising activities, such as the half Marathon, accounting for the rest.

Since the mid-1950's, when new drugs and techniques brought tuberculosis under control, the Lung Association has concentrated its efforts on other threats to lungs, such as emphysema, asthma, bronchitis and lung cancer, especially as they relate to air pollution, smoking and job-related lung hazards.

Jeanette Baptiste, president of the local Lung Association, said she hopes the Half Marathon will make people more aware that running can strengthen people's lungs, improve their stamina and health, and help them stay well.

VLM Christian Gets Interim Minister

Dr. Charles Severns, assisted by his wife Ruth, has begun an "ad interim" ministry at the Vista La Mesa Christian Church, 4210 Massachusetts ave., La Mesa.

The Severns are retired after a long and active ministry in both California and Arizona. Dr. Severns has served as pastor of the Central Christian Church in Phoenix and as Director of Church Relations at Chapman College in Orange, California.

He has served as interim pastor in several churches since his retirement, coming to the Vista La Mesa church from the Christian Church in Clairemont.

Mrs. Severns, besides helping in her husband's ministry, was on the Regional Staff of the Christian Churches for several years.

Bloodmobile To Visit SV Church Saturday

The Bloodmobile of the San Diego Blood Bank will be available to persons wishing to donate blood from 8 a.m. through 1 p.m. Saturday at the Spring Valley Church of the Nazarene, 3310 Bancroft street.

Currently only 4 per cent of the population of San Diego County donates blood on a regular basis, according to the Blood Bank. The demand for blood, however, increases each year at a rate of 8 per cent, as life-saving surgical procedures such as open heart operations become a daily occurrence.

There's An Answer!

and Ruth Stafford Peale

Doesn't understand the Bible
Q. When reading the Bible I honestly get upset. The Old Testament is full of violence, and one can't blame it on TV. I find the God of the Old Testament to be a revengeful God. In the New Testament we have a tender, loving man named Jesus. He taught and loved simplicity. He thought the long temple service was a bore. This is the opposite of the God who demanded sacrifices and riches for the temple. Some people accept the Bible without question. I can't. How do you explain it to one who is eager to understand?

A. You impress us as a thinker. The Bible is actually the history of the developing spiritual thinking of many centuries, and the unfolding revelation of God's wonderful love. In its pages a stern deity is transformed into a kind and loving Heavenly Father.

You have captured that idea, and it is basic. The secret of understanding in depth is to know and follow Jesus, the greatest spiritual teacher of all time. As you do this, the sometimes intricate meanings of the Bible will be made clear.

I wonder if you are aware of the version of the New Testament called "Good news for Modern Man," published by the American Bible Society. This could be very helpful to you.

We have a booklet, "Let the Bible Help You," which has given new insights into the scriptures for others, and a copy of it is on its way to you. Anyone wishing a free copy may write to us in care of Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

Crippled and confined

Q. My dear husband passed away suddenly seven months ago. We were married for over 58 years, living in this same home for 56 years. We had no children. I have no close relatives and am alone. I have a bad hip condition which keeps me confined to my home entirely. I get around the house only with a walker, so I cannot be active in things as I used to be.

Can you suggest anything to help me get over my sadness and grieving over my loss of such a wonderful companion? Please pray for me.

A. We would suggest that every day you give thanks that you have such a wonderful husband. Because it is a fact that you still do have him.

Try to believe that he is very near to you and wants you to be happy. So don't waste your present life by being sad.

Make a list of all the other people whom you know who are lonely and confined as you are. And establish a friendly relationship by telephone or mail or message. Start a kind of fellowship club. By helping each other, each of you will help himself or herself.

In a vacuum of misery

Q. When I met my husband I knew he had a child by another woman. We were married and had three children. I loved him very much, believed and trusted in him with all my heart, thinking he felt the same way about me. I did not know he was still seeing this same woman and had two more children by her and that she carried his name because of the children. This was eight years ago, and I still have the hurt in my heart.

I got a divorce, but became very ill. He wants to see me again, but the warmth and affection toward him is gone. I am in a vacuum of misery. I know if I take him back he will still have a warm feeling toward the other woman. I am afraid of the future. Thank you for your answer to this problem.

A. Sounds like this man is a bigamist at heart. Apparently, one wife and one family isn't enough for him. As a decent woman you could not, of course, be party to such a situation. He should be made to shell out and take care of your children financially.

You can get out of that "vacuum of misery" by bringing yourself into an area of positive, hopeful thinking. It was no real marriage except on your part, and since a marriage involves two people, you are probably well out of it.

If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in this column, write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

Grossmont Hospital To Get New Lobby

Persons looking for the lobby entrance and admitting area of Grossmont Hospital will find a detour while a new lobby is being built on the front of the hospital.

Admitting and entrance will be through the outpatient lobby on the south side of the building. Directional signs are being installed to alert visitors and arriving patients where to go.

The lobby expansion is part of a $1 million construction and model project of the "support services," such as the business office, admitting, nursing administration offices, medical records offices, physicians' library and conference rooms, and general administrative offices.

Ron Dahlgren, administrator, said this latest project is needed to enable the hospital staff to serve its expanded capacity of 400 beds. Grossmont is now the second largest community hospital in San Diego County and serves some 300,000 residents in East County.

Construction will be done by DeNarde Construction Company which has offices in San Diego and San Francisco.

Service Centers To Aid Seniors On Property Tax

More than 650 volunteer service centers throughout the state are open to help senior citizens with their claims for property tax assistance, rent assistance and property tax postponement.

"Volunteer centers are located as far north as Yreka to San Ysidro," Elizabeth Hobbs-Parker, Franchise Tax Board volunteer coordinator, said.

Filing period is now open for Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance, Senior Citizens Rent Assistance and Senior Citizens Property Tax Postponement.

The Volunteer Tax Assistance Program was launched 2 years ago. Since then the number of sites and volunteers has almost tripled. The volunteers, most of them senior citizens, received special training from the Franchise Tax Board staff to enable them to help others with the claim forms.

"Assistance is immediately available and it's free," Hobbs-Parker said. "We encourage owners and renters over 62 years of age to visit a center near them for information or assistance."

The filing period is now open for Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance, Senior Citizens Rent Assistance and Senior Citizens Property Tax Postponement.

Information about qualifications and the location of the service centers can be obtained by calling the Franchise Tax Board's toll-free information number 800/852-5711 or by calling the local information and Referral Center.

This Week's RECIPE

Grilled Chicken and Mushrooms

An outdoor barbecue doesn't necessarily have to be a "quickie" meal with the old standards like hamburgers and hot dogs that leave you both bored and stuffed on a hot summer's day, according to Gary Bart, area director for Weight Watchers International.

"A barbecue can be as innovative and as exciting as any elaborate sit-down dinner you'd be proud to serve your guests," he said, "and still be part of your diet plan."

Two slimming-but-scrumptious barbecue dishes, marinated grilled chicken and grilled stuffed mushrooms, are today's samples in a continuing series of Weight Watchers barbecue recipes.

Grilled Chicken

- 2½ pound broiling chicken, cut in quarters
- 1 cup chicken bouillon
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons dehydrated onion flakes
- 2 teaspoons soy sauce
- 1 teaspoon thyme
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 2 cups cooked brown rice

Place chicken in a shallow pan. Combine remaining ingredients, except rice, in a bowl and pour over chicken. Marinate for 3 hours.

Remove chicken from marinade and place on grill over hot coals, skin side down. Cook about 10 minutes on each side or until done to your taste, brushing frequently with the marinade. Remove skin and serve over hot rice. Makes 4 evenly divided servings.

Grilled Stuffed Mushrooms

- 4 cups large fresh mushrooms
- 2 packets instant onion broth and seasoning mix
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped celery
- ½ teaspoon tarragon
- Lemon juice

Wipe mushrooms with a damp cloth and remove and chop stems. Combine chopped stems, broth mix, celery and tarragon in a non-stick skillet and cook, stirring occasionally, until chopped stems are tender.

Fill mushroom caps with cooked mixture and fit caps together in pairs with filling in center; thread on skewer. Secure caps with toothpicks, if necessary. Sprinkle with lemon juice and grill over hot coals

SO MUCH TO CHOOSE FROM — Kathie Stienbeck, Miss Lemon Grove, explores home furnishing possibilities with salesman Don Rohasek at the recently opened Plaza Furniture Warehouse, 7667 Broadway in Lemon Grove, as the two lounge on one of the many contemporary and traditional sectional pieces carried by the store. Jack and Maureen Matthews, store owners, also operate another Plaza Furniture store at 1011 E. Plaza Blvd. in National City.

Workshop Aids Families of Mentally Ill

Parents of Adult Schizophrenics, a mutual support and advocacy group from families of the mentally ill, will meet tonight at 7 p.m. to set up a series of free workshops which will be conducted by co-operating psychiatrists to help parents cope with their special problems.

In addition, legislation for patients' rights will be promoted and the committee inspecting board and care facilities will present its findings.

The new meeting place since passage of Prop 13, is the Friendship Hall of the University Christian Church, 3900 Cleveland Ave., San Diego.

Family members, friends and concerned persons in the healing professions are invited to take an active part in overcoming the stigma associated with mental illness.

Children With Salty Skin Could Have Cystic Fibrosis

Cystic Fibrosis, an inherited lung-damaging disease, is not as rare as once thought, according to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

"Approximately one in every 1,600 children are born with the disease," noted Mrs. Lee McQueary, chairman of the "Kiss Your Baby" program of the San Diego and Inland Empire Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

"Because C/F is hard to detect in infants, it is believed that many children may be undiagnosed. Some children with C/F may also be misdiagnosed, as the symptoms of other lung-damaging diseases can mimic those of C/F," the chairman continued.

There is one sign unique to the possible presence of cystic fibrosis to which all parents can be alerted. C/F affects the exocrine (outward secreting) glands, and the sweat of children who have the disease is often unusually salty.

During "Kiss Your Baby" Month, August 1 to 31, all parents in San Diego, Imperial, Riverside and San Bernardino are being asked to kiss their children with very special attention. If you detect a taste of salt when kissing your child's skin, the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation advises seeing a doctor. A child whose skin tastes salty should be tested for cystic fibrosis.

"The possibility that your child has C/F is slight, but if so, early diagnosis and thorough medical care are essential to his well-being," added McQueary.

C/F Care, Teaching and Research Centers are located at University Hospital in San Diego to serve San Diego and Imperial Counties.

For more information, contact the San Diego and Inland Empire Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation at 3954 4th Ave., San Diego, CA 92103, (714) 298-0777.

"HAPPINESS IS A DRY BED"

Coronado Playhouse Putting on 'The Ritz'

The Coronado Playhouse is "puttin' on The Ritz" Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays at 8 p.m. August 25 through October 7.

"The Ritz," a comedy by Terrance McNally, takes place in a notorious New York bathhouse where Gaetano Proclo seeks refuge from his murder-minded brother-in-law only to find that the peace and quiet he so longs for is a commodity greatly lacking at this establishment. Directed by William R. Bruce, the cast includes Phil Manescalchi, Wayne Wynne, Gordon Ross and Mark S. Brown.

For more information and reservations, call 435-4856.

Museum Schedules Rock Sale Sunday

Slabs of malachite, a translucent, green, ornamental mineral species often banded with two tones of the same color, will be included in a Rock Sale being held Sunday at the Natural History Museum in Balboa Park.

Starting at 10 a.m. when the Museum's doors open, the sale will continue until 5 p.m. when they close. According to the curator of minerals, Josephine Scripps, sale items include some very good fossil material, Brazilian agate specimens and some especially fine coxenite, a clear agate species notable for imbedded filaments of golden-yellow. There will also be "findings," the bell caps and chains used in making jewelry.

Rock Sale prices vary from 50 cents for grab-bag lots of identified minerals to $10 or $15 for the larger specimens. The sales are held on the first Sunday of each month in the museum's main rotunda. The mineralogy department will also be staffed and open during the Sale hours. For information call the curator on Tuesdays or Fridays between 2 and 5 p.m. at 232-3821.

Home States Picnic Set To Launch SD Celebration

San Diego's seventh annual America's Finest City Celebration gets under way Saturday, August 19, with "The World's Greatest...Home States Picnic" in Balboa Park (6th avenue and Laurel street) from 12 noon to 6 p.m.

Local host celebrities from each of the 50 states, as well as from the District of Columbia, Canada, Mexico, and Puerto Rico will coordinate special activities under their home state banners and flags. This year, representatives from San Diego's five Sister Societies (Yokohama, Japan; Leon, Mexico; Cavite City, Philippines; Tema, Ghana; and Edinburgh, Scotland) will join the picnicers in the park and share the old-home-state reunion atmosphere.

Maggie Mazur and Marge Gibson, co-chairpersons of the picnic, are inviting everyone in San Diego to come and share food and music with new friends from old places.

They suggest picnicers bring foods from their home states, such as New England brown bread, Georgia peanuts, Kentucky fried chicken, Wisconsin bratwurst, Louisiana jambalaya, Sourmost Barbershop Quartet.

Entertainment at the World's Greatest Picnic will be provided by Bass Went Home, the U.S. Navy StSeel Band, R. T. Denny and Mother Grundy's Possum Hunters, pany which has offices in San and Bart Hazlett and the Dixie Hasslers.

Chargers Kickoff Pre-Season In Kingdome Friday at 7:30

The San Diego Chargers meet the Seattle Seahawks in a National Football League preseason opening game Friday, in the Kingdome, Seattle. Kickoff is at 7:30 p.m.

The Chargers have beaten the Seahawks twice in 3 meetings but have not been able to put a halt to quarterback Jim Zorn, a lefthand passer who came to Seattle as a first-year free agent in the team's first year, 1976, and has been a problem whenever the opponent has been San Diego.

The Seahawks' first victory came August 29, 1976, in the Kingdome, where Zorn passed three yards to Ron Howard for a touchdown and a 17-16 victory with 13 seconds remaining in the game.

San Diego defeated Seattle 38-20 in a 1977 preseason contest at San Diego Stadium but Zorn passed for 281 yards.

Touchdown pass plays of 27 yards and 74 yards from Zorn to Steve Largent swept Seattle to a 21-13 lead over San Diego in the third quarter of a regular season game at Seattle in 1977 before the Chargers rallied to a 30-28 victory. Zorn threw for 4 touchdowns and 291 yards.

In 3 games against San Diego Zorn has completed 49 of 83 passes for 799 yards and 5 touchdowns.

The Seahawks-Chargers game on the second weekend of the preseason will offer a preview of the start of the regular season. Chargers coach Tommy Prothro's squad returns to the Northwest for the regular-season opener against Seattle September 3.

The Chargers have been preparing for this season, their fifth under Prothro, since July 12, when training began at UCSD.

The Chargers finished the 1977 season with a 7-7 record, their best under Prothro in a year in which they demonstrated the ability to compete with any team in the league. Among the Chargers' 1977 achievements were 44 quarterback sacks that set a club record; 205 points allowed that set a club record for fewest points given up; 1,725 passing yards allowed that set a club record and resulted in the number one pass defense ranking in the AFC.

"For the first time I feel we are true contenders," Prothro said recently. "We no longer are atalented, young, rookie team (as the Chargers were described last year). "We are a talented, young, veteran team.

"A lot of people on this squad are better football players than at this time last year," said Prothro. "Everybody wants to be good and they're willing to pay the price to be good."

Youth Hoop Clinic Starts Next Week

Boys and girls in grades 3 through 8 are invited to this year's Basketball Clinic sponsored by the La Mesa Recreation Dept.

The clinic will be held at Grossmont High's new gymnasium.

Coach Frank Foggiano will instruct players in basic fundamentals and skills practice. The cost is $6 each student. The following sessions are available:

August 14-18—grades 3-5—

Mon. thru Fri. 6-8 p.m.

August 21-25—grades 3-5—

Mon. thru Fri. 6-9 p.m.

August 28-Sept. 1—grades 6-8—

Mon. thru Fri. 6-9 p.m.

Students may register at the La Mesa Recreation Center, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

Those with questions should call Jim Putney at 469-4128.

Sharp Tee Tourney Benefits Hospital

Sharp Hospital's 5th Annual Invitational Golf Tournament to be held at Rancho Santa Fe's Whispering Palms Country Club has been scheduled for October 5 and this year will benefit the Sharp Cardiac Center.

Ralph L. Clark, a local automobile executive, is serving as tournament chairman, with Randy Moore, an insurance executive, as co-chairman.

All proceeds from each $100 entry fee this year will go entirely to the Cardiac Center.

Total proceeds from previous Sharp tournaments now exceed $50,000 and have provided funds for monitoring equipment in Critical Care Units, a fetal heart monitoring system in the Sharp Stork Club, a van for disabled or handicapped rehabilitation patients and patient patio areas at the Sharp Rehabilitation Center.

Last year the annual fund raising event attracted players from all over the southwest and as far east as Louisiana. "We had a waiting list for the first time last year," Clark said. "So we anticipate an even greater demand this year. Invitations will be mailed by July and the full field of 160 players is expected to fill quickly."

PLAYBOY ALL-AMERICAN—Fleet-footed San Diego State defensive back Henry Williams has been named to September PLAYBOY's 1978 Preview All-America Team. PLAYBOY predicts that the San Diego State secondary could be the finest in the country.

Breakers, Comets Game to be Played In Tijuana Friday

The IVA San Diego Breakers will meet the Denver Comets in a match to be played in the Municipal Auditorium of Tijuana, Friday. In conjunction with the Volleyball Federation De Mexico, the Breakers are staging the match as a preliminary to possible bi-city scheduling for the '79 season. The Auditorio Municipal de Tijuana seats approximately 5,000 spectators and was the site of the 1974 World Volleyball Championships.

The Breakers were started in 1975 and went on to win the IVA Championship in 1976. 1978 marks a new beginning for the Breakers with new ownership, new management, and a completely new team roster led by player/coach Miles Pabst. General Manager Bob Gerrity: "We're really excited about the new Breakers this year and we are determined to bring the IVA championship back to San Diego for keeps."

Bus transportation (298-0774), is available from San Diego for the match.

Wrestling Team Split Basis For Tues. Match

Two professional wrestling tag team partners have called it quit. They're not quitting wrestling. Just each other.

Instead of a team that won many matches at the S.D. Coliseum, they have now become enemies.

Such is the basis for a Mexican Death Match between former partners Moondog Mayne and Great Goliath Tuesday night.

There is also an American Heavyweight Title bout with Hector Guerrero being challenged by the Scotch Friskie, Roddy Piper.

A newcomer to the Coliseum is GO. That's what he calls himself — GO. He's matched with Black Gorman in a tag team bout against Professor Ito and Pac Cho.

Tony Rocco meets Ghana Singh in a conventional match. It starts at 7:30 on Tuesday.

The Coliseum is at 15th and E, downtown.

TAKE FIVE

by John E. Wirges

These hot summer days tend to make a guy (or gal) sit back and study clouds and such, but that ain't the way to go. Time's-a-wastin'.

'Cause while the temperature says it's the middle of summer the old calendar says it's almost football time and there's things to do.

Going on the record, last year was the first season the San Diego Chargers averted a losing record since they went 8-6 in 1969.

But while it has taken Tommy Prothro time to re-create a worthy challenger on the field from the out-house cellar dwellers he found when he took command in '74, the Charger Backers have never fallen from first place in the Fan League.

This is Prothro's fifth year at the Charger helm and it looks as if his product is ready for the free-swinging market that is the National Football League's annual fall madness and mayhem on the march to a Super Bowl berth.

This year Prothro's Pachyderms are really a herd of quality and every bit worthy of the best damn Family Fan Club that has been their good fortune to command since the Chargers first dug their hoofs in the mud of Balboa Stadium in the dim reaches of long ago.

There are many ways to really enjoy the football season. But the first order has to be going with a winner. And this year the Charger Backers have a team that could make grown men weep for happy.

Barring injury or high tide in the San Diego river basin on game day, (the Stadium is below high tide mark when the San Diego river is running heavy) Charger owner Gene Klein's troops could and probably will, delight near sell-out crowds during the 1978 NFL wars.

And with a little bit of luck, and the good Lord willing, these very same battlers could be party to the American Conference playoffs come next January.

Playing in a division that includes both the Denvers and the Oaklands, making the playoffs ain't no easy thing. And with a 16 game schedule, tenacity, depth, quick healers and a lotta luck in keeping injuries to a minimum will have as much to do with winning as great game plans, outstanding players and brilliant coaching.

But for the first time since the Chargers whipped Buffalo 23-10 to win the AFL Championship in 1965, San Diego's entry in the professional football wars is going in with a championship caliber club and loyal Charger followers are in for one helluva great fall.

The Charger Backers, who justifiably bill themselves as the "Number ONE Fan Club in America," add fun and organization to the football season. They never lost faith while losing, but winning . . . WOW!

Last weekend the Charger Backers held a family picnic with players, coaches and their families. On August 12th the Backers are going to Los Angeles by bus to cheer on the Chargers to victory over the Rams. The Annual Charger Kick-Off Banquet (at the Town and Country Convention Center) is coming up on August 31st.

There will be pre-home game luncheons at the Stadium, a Fun Night with Players and Families and the annual trip to Oakland where the Chargers will capture the Western Division crown. (It COULD happen).

It costs just $5 for a full family membership in the Charger Backers and applications are sitting right there at the Chargers' Ticket Office waiting for you.

No one enjoys Charger football more than the Charger Backers . . . Why not join up and find out why?

Friars Eye Playoff Posture In Arena Games Tonight, Sat.

Although they have assured themselves of a playoff spot, the Friars have some serious work to accomplish that might smooth their way in the post-season competition.

Matches against Anaheim tonight at the S.D. Sports Arena and against New York Saturday night may count significantly toward determining post-season home court advantage, which player-coach Rod Laver considers of major importance.

"In world tennis the home court is worth a game a set," Laver said. "It's a tremendous advantage."

The matches against Anaheim (Cliff Drysdale and Mark Cox) and New York (Vitas Gerulaitis) start at 7:30 p.m. and provide a spectator bonus. All reserved seats in the Terrace are reduced to $3 for Country Western Night tonight while the first 2500 persons in the Sports Arena Saturday will receive coupons good for a free can of tennis balls compliments of Heavenly Donuts.

The Friars are assured the home court edge for the opening playoff series starting August 15. But their season's win-loss record will determine home dates in the subsequent series.

"I'd like to have a breather before the playoffs but we can't afford to let down," Laver explained. "Right now only Boston has a better record than us but Los Angeles, Golden Gate and New York all are within distance. That's why every match to the end is so important and can contribute to a successful showing in the playoffs."

The Friars also would like to have a winning momentum going into post-season play. The team's performance following the Wimbledon break, has been pretty spotty but much of the down slide could be attributed to injuries. Laver has been bothered by a sore elbow, Kerry Reid has had a bruised thigh and Mona Guerant and Ross Case each has been below par physically.

The fact that the Friars play their last three matches at home might help the situation.

Excellent seats in all price ranges remain for both the Anaheim and New York matches and may be purchased at the Friars Sports Arena box office or at convenient locations throughout San Diego County.

SD Charger Fans To 'Hit the Road'

A "road trip" is planned for Charger fans.

Charger Backers will go to a Chargers-Rams game Saturday, August 12.

Bus will carry them from the S.D. Stadium—round trip—for $20. It includes a game ticket, box dinner, and Charger souvenirs.

Bus will leave at 3 p.m. and fans may bring snacks and beverages and certainly banners.

This year, George Allen, the Rams' new head coach will be attempting to win back the coveted Lt. Governor's trophy which was won last year by the Chargers.

Reservations may be made at 280-2111 with the closing date August 11 noon.

The Chargers beat the Rams 26-25 last year.

SD Country Estates Offers Balloon Ride

SAN DIEGO COUNTRY ESTATES—The second anniversary of the Country Condos will be highlighted by an afternoon concert on the green by the U.S. Navy Concert Band of San Diego, Hot Air Balloon rides for young and old, Charlie and Harrigan of KCBQ Radio fame and refreshments at the Estates' San Vicente Tennis Ranch, Sunday 6, at 3 p.m.

"This party will celebrate the second successful year of the Tennis Ranch condominiums here at the Estates and is open to the public," said Bill Friery, president of the San Diego Country Estates. "In less than 2 years more than 60 per cent of our condo inventory has been purchased. And the third and final phase of the Country Condos is now under construction."

A large hot air balloon, seven stories in height, will be tethered at the Tennis Ranch for inspection and mini flights.

The opening of a new gourmet restaurant at the Tennis Ranch this fall has been announced. The dining room will overlook the swimming pools and tennis courts as well as afford a spectacular view of the lofty Cuyamaca peaks.

Tennis Tournament Aids Disadvantaged

LAKE FORREST, CA.—Openings in the second Coors Tennis Skills Tournament are disappearing rapidly, and all spaces are expected to be filled shortly, according to Jim Brown, director of the California Youth Tennis Foundation (CYTF), beneficiary of the tournament proceeds.

The tournament is being held August 5 at the Laguna Niguel Racquet Club, 23500 Clubhouse dr. in Laguna Niguel. Upper (A&B) Singles start at noon, with Lower (C&D) Singles, Upper Mixed Doubles and Lower Mixed Doubles following at 1:30, 3:00 and 4:30 p.m.

Tax-deductible entry fees are $10 for doubles and $5 for singles. The first tournament was held Saturday at Huntington Beach.

The tournament is designed to test forehand and backhand abilities in groundstrokes, volleys and serves. The top three finishers in each division will receive trophies, with the winner in each division receiving an AMF-Head XRC racquet.

Scottish Games Here Sat., Sun.

Color, pageantry, culture and tradition come together Saturday and Sunday when the Scottish Highland games are held in Balboa Stadium in downtown San Diego.

The weekend includes individual and team athletic competition, marching bands, and skirling bagpipes. There'll be booths and exhibits relative to the event against a backdrop of proudly worn tartans. Hundreds of people of Scottish ancestry will come to the stadium to take part in the Games while many Scots and non-Scots will observe the unique and authentic traditional happening as fans.

Among the athletic events is the tossing of the caber—heaving a 17-20 foot pole of 100-160 pounds in a straight line, end for end. There'll also be a half-marathon footrace, hammer throw and stone put.

Admission charge is $3; $2 for juniors.

Padres in Cincinnati; Reds Here for 3 Aug. 10

For the last 6 seasons it's been either the Los Angeles Dodgers or Cincinnati Reds representing the National League Western Division in the post-season playoffs.

The Reds in 1972, 1973, 1975 and 1976.

The Dodgers in 1974 and 1977 and both the Reds and Dodgers in the middle of the race again in 1978, although the San Francisco Giants are making it a 3-team race this season.

The Padres don't play the Giants again until September 19 and just yesterday the Padres completed the first 3 games of a 13 consecutive game home-and-home series with the Dodgers and Reds.

It's the second time this season the Padres have run this 13-game gamut. It happened May 19-31 with the Padres winning 5 and losing 8. However, the Padres were competitive in every game and surprised some critics who thought the team would be fortunate to win three or four games.

An analysis of the 13-game stretch shows just how competitive the Padres were. Cincinnati won the first game, coming from behind with 2 runs in the 7th to beat the Padres 4-3. The next night the Reds did it again with runs in the 8th to win 10-66. The two clubs then split a doubleheader, San Diego winning 7-2 on a complete game by Bob Shirley and the Reds capturing the nightcap 1-0 behind Tom Seaver. Three out of four for the Reds, but the Padres felt they could have won all four.

The Padres then returned home for 3-game sets against the Dodgers and Reds. The opening game of the series against Los Angeles was a pitcher's duel between Don Sutton and Bob Owehinko. It was tied 1-1 before the Dodgers broke it open with seven runs in the 8th inning. Now it was the Padres' turn to come from behind. A two-out, two-run single by Tucker Ashford in the 8th inning lifted San Diego to a 3-2 win. The rubber game of the series was no contest with San Diego breezing to a 9-3 win giving the Padres a 3-4 record with six games to go in the gruelling 13-game stretch.

The Padres return home for the Cincinnati series Thursday, August 10.

4 Padres Games On Television 6

TV 6 will continue its live coverage of Padre road games scheduling a pair at Cincinnati and two at Los Angeles.

Saturday's contest with the Reds will be aired live from Riverfront Stadium at 4 p.m. and Sunday's game will begin at 11:15 a.m.

Jerry Coleman, Dave Campbell and Jerry Gross handle play by play action.

The pair with the Dodgers will be televised live from Dodger Stadium Tuesday and Wednesday, August 8 and 9, at 7:30 p.m. All TV 6 telecasts of Padre games are preceded by a 15-minute warm-up show.

Ron Esau Flagged Out Of E.C. Speedway Duel

Tempers have had a week to cool down following last week's turbulent 40-lap main event at Cajon Speedway but the super stocks will be back at it hot and heavy this weekend.

A 9-race card topped by a ladies destruction derby is on tap Saturday night at 8 on the 3/8 mile paved oval and all eyes will be focused on point leader Ron Esau of Lakeside.

The 23-year-old point leader was black-flagged out of last week's feature after spinning out 5-time champion Pat McIntyre on the 34th lap of the race. The two had been dueling for the lead and for 15 laps McIntyre rode Esau's bumper before easing his way by.

Esau and McIntyre will both be back in weekend action to head the 45 car field. The card Saturday night calls for two 4-lap trophy dashes, four 8-lap heat races, a 10-lap limited stock race and a 20-lap B main and then the 40-lap feature. A ladies' destruction derby and a mechanic's creeper race will also be on tap.

The tangle between McIntyre and Esau enabled Tim Biggers to take the top honors for the first time in 2 years. Biggers became the 10th driver to visit victory lane in the 14 races to date. Only point leader Esau, father George Esau and Sonny Tomlinson have won more than once.

With 8 shows still left this year on the Cajon oval for the super stocks, several top drivers still hope to add their names to that list of winners this season. Mike Hagerman, last year's runnerup, is still winless this year but finished 3rd last week behind Biggers and the previous week's winner Gary Crossland. Mark Norris winless since 1974 has come on strongly recently, and is now 4th in the current points. Norris was 5th a week ago although his motor blew 2 weeks ago. Prior to that he had been seventh, second and third in consecutive weeks.

Sockers' Playoff Games Open at Stadium Tuesday

The San Diego Sockers became the second team to clinch a North American Soccer League division title when they were named champions of the American Conference's Western Division.

San Diego clinched the title over division-mates California Surf, Oakland Stompers, and

REGULAR SEASON ENDS

The Sockers close out their 1978 NASL regular season with a Thursday-Friday series against the Dallas Tornado Thursday, 7 p.m. and the Vancouver Whitecaps, Sunday at 2.

Both games will be aired on KOGO.

San Jose Earthquakes with 4 games remaining in the regular season.

The Sockers will open their championship playoff series on Tuesday, August 8 at San Diego Stadium, having the home-field advantage by virtue of their division crown. All playoff games in San Diego will be played at 8 p.m. Only when the regular season final standings are completed will the Sockers know who their opponent will be in the first round.

Sockers Vice President/General Manager Marvin Milkes said, "We received permission from the NASL to print our playoff tickets for all 3 rounds and first round tickets are now available at the Stadium and our Select-A-Seat outlets. We're excited about having a championship team in San Diego, and we hope the fans will come out and help us win these playoff games. The team has been pleased with the latest turnouts, and I think people will agree that they've responded with some exciting soccer."

Milkes also announced that the Sockers have begun their season ticket drive for 1979, and that the response has been outstanding. "We're looking forward to an even better season in 1979, and we've started by lowering our ticket prices. There's also a great new family plan, and soccer fans can now see 45 NASL games for the price of 15 because we have a Gold Card Pass for all California Surf and Los Angeles Aztecs home games as a part of our package.

San Diego has started their third winning streak of the '78 season, having won 3 in a row before going on the road to face the San Jose Earthquakes (July 26) and Colorado Caribous (July 30). In their last three games the Sockers scored 12 goals, gaining the maximum nine points in each game. Julie Vee established a new club mark for assists in a season (13) and Walker McCall's 10 goals are closing in on the mark for most goals in a season (14).

Vandalism May Close Some County Parks

S.D. County Parks and Recreation Director Lloyd Lowrey warned that vandalism in County Parks is on the increase.

"We are used to dealing with graffiti, broken signs and stopped-up restrooms, but there seems to be an increasing trend towards vandalism of a much more serious nature. In the last 90 days, we have had to completely close two restrooms because of vandalism. In one case, fixtures have been ripped off walls, roofing has been removed and electrical fixtures have been torn from their mounts, exposing live wires.

"We have also had equipment damaged severely, including one mower that needs $750 in repairs. In the case of 2 new parks, opening has been delayed by serious vandalism. In one of the parks, expensive playground equipment was nearly demolished before the park even opened."

With limited park staffing and limited money to make repairs, the County Parks and Recreation Department would have to rely on cooperation from the public to reduce vandalism, he said. Most Regional Parks represent multi-million dollar investments, and destruction of these facilities results in a loss of many tax dollars.

"I request the public to help us by reporting vandalism to park staff or law enforcement officers and by having an awareness that once park facilities are damaged, they may not be repaired or replaced for months, if at all," said Lowrey.

'Old Pro' Boxer Evens Score

Wilson KO's Provo In Last 1/2 Minute

Ronnie Wilson was as jubilant as an amateur after his first win. As an old (28) pro (76-24-4) he was battling for local respectability Friday at the Coliseum.

He had just KO'd Lenix Provo with 26 seconds left in the final round. Provo, a Marine Sgt. in S.D. had accumulated a record of 8-0 and his star was on the rise.

Wilson had lost to Provo in a poor performance a month before and he needed desperately to redeem himself to remain a light-heavyweight drawing card.

Provo needed to whip Wilson again to attract statewide attention. Each had predicted he was going to knock his opponent into the laps of the ring-side press.

But the fight Friday appeared to be a replay of the previous one as Provo took charge in the first round and split the bridge of Wilson's nose after peppering him with flurries of hooks, overhand rights and soul-jarring uppercuts.

Provo took the first 3 rounds; Wilson the 4th when he went on the offensive for the first time. Provo covered his head and Wilson went for his body.

But it was Provo again in the 5th through 9th rounds. One official gave Wilson the 9th but it was apparent that Wilson's punches to Provo's body had slowed him down.

The 10th began about the same as the others. Provo took command one minute into the 10th round, slashed Provo with a right hook to the head and dropped him for an 8 count. The crowd went wild. Provo still tired now was also dazed. Wilson hit him with everything but the water bucket before referee Bobby Valdez wisely stopped the fight at 2:34 of the 10th when Provo could no longer defend himself.

Jazzmen, Mitch Miller On Symphony Weekend

Stan Kenton and his orchestra, The George Shearing Duo and Mitch Miller with pianist Paul Schenly, will share the San Diego Symphony's "Summer of Stars" first weekend in August. Tomorrow the 8 p.m. performance at San Diego State University's Open-Air Theatre will begin with the Shearing duo, followed by Kenton and his orchestra.

On Saturday Mitch Miller will guest conduct the San Diego Symphony Orchestra and feature pianist Paul Schenly in Rancho Bernardo's "Symphony on the Green," 8 p.m. series. Sunday Miller will again conduct the Symphony at 7 p.m. on the UCSD-La Jolla Campus. The Sunday concert will be climaxed with a complete fireworks display.

Opening the concert tomorrow, famed jazz-pianist-composer George Shearing will be presented along with a string bass accompanist.

Congentially blind, London-born Shearing has created an international reputation for his talents as pianist, arranger and composer. Equally at home on the classical concert stage as on the nightclub circuit, consistently compelling with quintet, trio or duo, he also performs with full orchestra or in solo concerts. In each he is recognized for his distinctive and inventive style.

A dedicated composer, Shearing's works number over 100 and include such great standards as "Lullaby of Birdland," a jazz classic. He has devoted many summers as an educator, teaching jazz technique, arranging and ensemble playing at the famed University of Utah Workshop and the renowned Chautauqua Institution.

Stan Kenton's first orchestra of 14 pieces was organized in 1941 and opened at the Rendezvous Ballroom in Balboa, California, where it achieved instant recognition and success as a new big band sound.

Recording and national tours with this orchestra followed, and honors such as Look Magazine's "Band of the Year" award and recognition by Downbeat, Metronome and Variety jazz polls received.

Kenton orchestras have won wide acclaim from the public and the press, including seven Playboy Jazz Poll Awards. Kenton was the third person elected to Downbeat Magazine's Hall of Fame (following Louis Armstrong and Duke Ellington).

Mitch Miller's programs will include classical selections, popular music and his famous sing-a-songs. The Miller presentations will feature the extraordinary young pianist, Paul Schenly.

Reserved seat tickets for the George Shearing-Stan Kenton San Diego State appearance tomorrow are priced at $10, $9, $8, $7 and $6 and are available at the Aztec Center Ticket Office and all Ticketron Agencies. Ticket information for Saturday's evening performance with guest conductor Mitch Miller in Rancho Bernardo may be obtained by phoning 487-5515.

Tickets for the Sunday concert and fireworks at UCSD-La Jolla are $6 for unreserved chair seats, $4.50 for adult blanket seating and $3 for student blanket seating. UCSD tickets are available at the Turntable in La Jolla, Kaleidoscope Gifts in University Towne Center, UCSD Events Office and Ticketron Agencies. For information about the "Summer of Stars" weekend concerts, phone the symphony office at 239-9721.

"Everyone is in need of balance," Lilias says, "and yoga is one way to unwind, pull the body together and release the tensions and fatigue of the day."

Lilias may be seen on her program over KPBS-TV, Channel 13, weekdays at 6:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.

Ray Pearson, a graphic artist and photographer in San Diego, and graduate of the School of Photography at Rochester Institute of Technology in New York, will be conducting. "Get acquainted with your camera" walks at Cabrillo National Monument. The walks will be offered at 1 p.m. on Sunday and every other Sunday thereafter.

Pearson, a member of the Volunteer-In-Parks program carried on at Cabrillo, who is volunteering his skills in this new service for the visitor at the Monument said, "Whether people paid $20 or $500 for their camera, we can help them better understand the many things they can do with it—and Cabrillo National Monument certainly provides the opportunities and the settings. Simply put, this is not a high powered college level course."

Those interested in further information may call Bob Valen at the Monument, 293-5450.

Feds Earmark $1 Million For Nutrition Education

Assistant U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Carol Tucker has announced that the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) will make $1 million available for nutrition education projects to teach children the nutritional value of food and the relationship of nutrition to health.

Of the $1 million, $200,000 will be allocated for grants to states to conduct experimental and demonstration nutrition education projects.

Approximately $250,000 is earmarked for cooperative agreements and contracts with states, nonprofit institutions, universities and private organizations to develop evaluation methods and innovative approaches to nutrition education for children.

The remaining $550,000 to be announced in a subsequent Federal Register notice, will be used to develop media materials and techniques for communicating nutrition education.

The funds are authorized under Section 18 of the Child Nutrition Act and are for fiscal year 1978, which ends September 30, 1978.

"We believe these projects can both increase children's knowledge of nutrition and encourage their participation in the school food programs," Ms. Foreman said.

The funds allocated for grants to state educational agencies are primarily aimed at developing and evaluating new ways to integrate nutrition education into school breakfast, school lunch, and other child nutrition programs.

To apply for the grants, state educational agencies should submit their applications to the Food and Nutrition Service contracting Officer by August 14.

Bids and proposals from nonprofit institutions, universities, and private organizations to perform research and development projects under contract will be solicited through USDA's Requests for Proposals at a later date.

These contractual actions will be published intermittently in the Commerce Business Daily. For more information on all of these projects, contact the Contracting Officer, Administrative Services Division, Food and Nutrition Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. The telephone number is (202) 447-8736.

The notice announcing the availability of funds for nutrition education projects appeared in the July 5 Federal Register.

Lynn Robinson Named CHAD Campaign Chief

Lynn McCurdy Robinson has been named Campaign Coordinator of the Combined Health Agencies Drive (CHAD), said Maxine Coover, executive director of the non-profit organization.

Previously, she was a national fund-raising director for Project Concern, an international health care agency headquartered in San Diego.

While there, she helped coordinate fundraising projects throughout the country.

In her new position, Ms. Robinson will be responsible for the fundraising activities of CHAD. This will encompass the primary source of CHAD funding which is through the United Way/CHAD Combined Campaign.

Last year, CHAD's efforts in the Combined Campaign helped raise $515,000 for the 12 health and research agencies. Those agencies include American Cancer Society, American Diabetes Association, American Heart Association, Arthritis Foundation, Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Mental Health Association, Multiple Sclerosis Society, Muscular Dystrophy Association, National Kidney Foundation, National Society for Prevention of Blindness and the North County Association for Retarded.

Give 'Windfall' To Energy Users Says Calif. PUC

Gains made by Southern California Edison and San Diego Gas & Electric through foreign exchange transactions in connection with construction of 2 new units at the San Onofre Nuclear Generating Station must be flowed through to the utilities' customers, the California Public Utilities Commission in Los Angeles ruled.

PUC said that the gains should be used to reduce costs of constructing electric turbine generators at the site, a move which will be reflected in the utilities' rate base upon which future rate increases will be calculated.

The windfall to the 2 electric utilities came about because of a significant devaluation of the English pound sterling in relation to the United States' dollar in 1975 and 1976.

Edison and SDG&E had entered into a financial agreement with a group of English banks in 1970 to assist in financing the two nuclear units.

The resultant gains before income taxes were $9,279,173 for Edison and $2,831,292 for SDG&E.

The matter was brought to the PUC's attention in a letter from SDG&E, which sought authority to use the gains to reduce construction expenses, a position which was also taken by the PUC's own staff and the City of San Diego.

Edison and the California Assn. of Utility Shareholders (CAUS) contended that the gains should be retained by the companies and its investors on the grounds that they assumed the risk of any losses that may have resulted from adverse changes in the foreign exchange rate and therefore should also receive any benefits.

Beef Prices Dropped in July

The California Beef Council has reported a significant drop in retail beef prices in its July statewide survey of five popular cuts. The CBE price index dove 20 cents from $2.12 per pound to $1.92 currently. This puts California prices 8 cents per pound below the national averages determined at the same time by the National Cattlemen's Association in Denver.

Council manager, Robert Rolston said, "the price drop is temporary and reflects normal market fluctuations in wholesale meat and live cattle prices."

Most industry spokesmen are forecasting at least a return to price levels of last month with some monthly increases expected from time to time for the balance of 1978. The long range trend is for higher prices in the next few years.

S.V. Woman To Sew

Katherine Thompson, of 416 Pesca ct., Spring Valley, is among 400 persons chosen to participate in an 8-Hour Sew-off Marathon in L.A. August 18-20.

The marathon will be held as part of the "Greatest Sew on Earth" home sewing show at the L. A. Convention Center.

Contestants will compete for $20,000 in prizes including an all-expense tour for 2 to Bali.

Grand Canyon Discovery Topic of Weekend Film

The discovery of the Grand Canyon, one of the most daring and significant explorations of the North American continent, is recreated in a film narrated by actor E. G. Marshall which will be shown at the Natural History Museum this weekend.

"99 Days to Survival" is a feature-length, color documentary which chronicles the journey of a contemporary crew of river runners as they re-enact the challenging journey. Marshall reads from the journal of John Wesley Powell who led an expedition down the Colorado River in 1899.

The film will be shown at 1:30 and 3 p.m. in the museum auditorium on Saturday and Sunday. Admission to the program is included in the $1 museum entrance fee. Children under 16 are admitted free.

Home Equity Useable For Other Investments

The increase in values of single family homes in California may be a challenge for the new home buyer, but to present homeowners it is a tremendous source of equity capital to be used to finance other needed goods and services.

Many homeowners are purchasing investment properties using the equity they have in their present home, according to John P. Roach, senior vice president at Home Federal S&L Assn. of San Diego. "But equity loan funds find a wide spectrum of uses," said Roach. "Consumers are buying cars, recreational vehicles, funding the education for their children and even financing vacations with these equity funds."

Home Federal's equity loan volume reached $24 million for the first six months of 1978 compared to $9 million for the first six months of 1977. "We expect to exceed $50 million in equity loans this year," said Roach.

Stereo Equipment Given to Hospital

Patients at Sharp Rehabilitation Center will benefit from the gift of a new "Magnum IV Home Entertainment Center" system donated to Sharp by the Readers Digest Assn.

The length of a patient's stay in a Rehab Center is much longer than in an acute care facility. Receipt of the gift is viewed as an assistance in both therapy and teaching programs. The Rehab Center is currently looking for donors to supplement the gift by giving an 8 track cassette cartridge adapter and hopes to attract donations of records and motivational or language training cassettes.

The system, valued at $500, consists of an am/fm stereo radio, automatic record changer, tape cartridge player-recorder and four speakers. In addition to the contribution, Readers Digest paid for the shipping costs.

Alcohol Abuse To Be Topic of Workshop

For persons interested in the subject of alcohol abuse, UC San Diego Extension is presenting a three-day summer workshop Aug. 21-23, titled "Nature and the Neutral Spirit."

Part of UCSD Extension's San Diego Summer Alcohol Studies Program, this workshop will be held 9 a.m. to 12 noon in Room 1438, Humanities Library Bldg., on UCSD's Revelle Campus. The fee is $35, and the instructor is Francis Marcolongo, Ph.D., a licensed marriage, family and child counselor.

He notes that it has long been recognized that although alcohol is called the neutral spirit, few people are neutral about alcohol. His UCSD Extension workshop will provide an interdisciplinary approach to the subject of alcohol abuse.

Included will be some background for understanding the current muddlement surrounding the subject of alcohol abuse, and an historical overview of alcohol as a product of culture and as a cultural problem, said Marcolongo.

Also discussed will be the eight major therapeutic models used in dealing with alcohol abusers, and there will be an exploration of the nature of the therapeutic relationship and the problems inherent in it. Finally, workshop participants will attempt to integrate these topics into a philosophy of the body that does away with the long standing nature vs. nurture or heredity vs. environment controversy.

For information on enrollment, call UCSD Extension at 452-3400. For a brochure listing all the workshops and courses in the San Diego Summer Alcohol Studies Program, call 452-3442.

Pinkerton's Nabbed by State For Shorting Employees' Pay

Pinkerton's, the oldest and largest private security company in America, has paid the State more than $9,000 in back wages for 90 of its current and former guards at the Diablo Canyon nuclear power plant, said Don Craib, deputy labor commissioner in the Division of Labor Standards Enforcement's (LSE) Santa Barbara office.

Craib said that from May 1976 to May 1978 the 128-year-old firm required its guards to show up for work 15 minutes early so they could check out their weapons and catch a shuttle bus to the plant.

The guards argued they should be paid for the extra 15 minutes, and LSE found merit to their complaint. Pinkerton's replied that the shuttle bus was a courtesy gesture on the company's behalf. No guards, it said, were forced to come early.

Craib, however, said an LSE investigation showed there was a strong likelihood that the guards who didn't show up early would be fired.

Pinkerton's eventually admitted that guards were expected to show up early to get weapons. The company sent to LSE a check for $9,050 covering their pay. Craib said there is still another $21,290 outstanding on the claim.

Pinkerton's with more than 40,000 employees nationwide, built its reputation during the last century chasing desperados across the American landscape.
